

LIFE ALIGNMENT

Advanced Processes Module

Longmont CO (near Boulder) April 27th - 30th, 2018

Please Note: The prerequisites for this course are Life Alignment Module 4 and Home Alignment

Due to the specialized nature of the four processes covered in this course: Life Purpose Alignment, Life Map, Life Path and Iris Balancing, there isn't time during the Life Alignment modules to include this material. Each process will be given a day in this course.

Life Purpose Alignment - This procedure teaches the practitioner how to guide a client through a process which begins with what they intend to bring into their life to enhance their life purpose. The rest of the procedure involves balancing the person to remove blocks in various Life Fields in order for him or her to be congruent with moving their life forward in that chosen direction.

Life Map - Using the pattern of the Life Alignment logo pictured above, the client is guided through a process that helps them identify a core issue, for example selling a house, issues with finances etc. From that core issue, the following areas are addressed to help clear blockages to fulfilling this including: stuck energy, family, health/healing, home, family patterns, projects, challenges, work, protections, ancestors, support and what works.

Life Path - This process is based on a combination of the energy flow path from Home Alignment and the Life Map, as well as some of Life Purpose Alignment process. The process begins with establishing the core issue or issues that need to be addressed. This is a very specific journey, to look at the relationships between the different aspects, including what needs to be manifested to bring flow, and what is blocking that flow. It's about the flow of energy around the core issue. Life Path can be done for an individual as well as for a group.

Iris Balancing - This process gives us a "window" through the iris of the eye to discern the person's personality type based on Rayid methodology. This process also teaches how to check the structure and the physical features of the iris. Iridology teaches that structures in the iris can correlate to various organs and systems in the body. Iris balancing gives us another means using Body Alignment Technique and Vortex to raise frequency and release blockages in the body.
